NEW PUBLICATIONS.

One Summer, by Blanche Willis Howard, comes to us with pleasant attestation of the remarkable success of our young townswoman's first book, in the new and elegant form in which Messrs. J. R. Osgood & Co., has presented it to the public. The book is somewhat enlarged, permitting bolder type, and its handsomely stamped cover, red-line border and gilt edges, with the numerous happy illustrations by Augustus Hoppin, give it prominence among the Holiday gift books of the season. With a reminder to our readers that it is for sale at Bugbee & Co's we append the following appreciative notice from the Boston Journal:

The new edition of One Summer, issued to-day in a dainty little quarto, profusely illustrated by Augustus Hoppin, is a welcome addition to the holiday books. This exceedingly charming story has enjoyed a singular popularity—singular, we mean, as compared with other "first books," but not at all singular when we consider its graceful and sparkling qualities. All the fun of the story—its comical episodes and ludicrous situations—is brought out in Mr. Hoppin's mirthful pictures and pen and pencil never worked in closer harmony. The umbrella which played such fateful part in the story, figures prominently in Mr. Hoppin's pictures. The list of contents is seen to issue from it, the frontispiece exhibits plain the very shock of collision; another picture shows two figures ensconced under it, with a suggestion of drapery, and two pairs of feet visible beneath, and it reappears often in association with the figures of the hero and heroine whom it was the means of introducing. There are forty-two of Mr. Hoppin's pictures, all clever and comical, and pervaded by the same delicate and constant humor that runs through the story. The book is elegantly printed and bound. Many will read the story afresh, with Mr. Hoppin's accompaniment of sketches, and those who have not before read it will take special delight in its perusal in the present attractive form.

Scenes in My Life, by Rev. Mark Trafton, D. D. This book, which we have received from James P. Magee, agent of the Methodist Book Concern, Boston, is published in attractive form by Nelson & Phillips, New York. It contains a fine steel portrait of the author, and embraces a very interesting series of sketches of events in the life of that prominent anti-slavery champion. The book possesses a special interest for Bangor people, the opening chapters being devoted to the early settlement here, Mr. Trafton's grandfather, Jacob Dennett, landing here with a little band of ten families in 1771 and settling on the bank of what was long known as "Dennett's Cove," where the Maine Central Depot is now located. The elevated portion of this land, which was then heavily timbered with pine and hemlock, covered the section through which Pleasant street now runs. Mr. Trafton's father was born in York, but came to Bangor in 1798 and set up a blacksmith's forge which was an object of great wonder to the Indians. In the house he built near the present ferry to Brewer Mr. Trafton was born in 1810. The old house was removed a few years since to Main street, and the basement fitted up for a store. The early recollections of the author who began his career at the shoemaking bench are full of local and historical interest, and the experience of his forty years as an itinerant Methodist preacher is associated with many points of interest in Maine, and touches many important public questions and events. The book is very entertainingly written, and his reminiscences of labor in the cause of religion, anti-slavery and temperance are vivid and pleasing, a spirit of cheerful human sympathy running through the pages like a thread of gold. The dedication to "My faithful and affectionate wife, who for forty years has shared the toils and burdens of an itinerant's life with never a murmur," is a graceful recognition of the partner of that career which the retired clergyman has sketched in these pages.

NEW MAGAZINES.

Harper's Magazine for January, is cosmopolitan in its scope and crowded with interesting pictures from different parts of the world, from Bohemia to Wales and from Arkansas to Broadway. The pictures in A Glimpse of Prague are of the Bohemian capital, replete with picturesque and historical associations. Here we have the wonderful Carlsbridge, with its beautiful old tower; the Cathedral of St. Vitus; Wallenstein's old palace; and the old room of the senators in the royal palace, out of whose windows the imperial councillors were thrown—the beginning of the Thirty Years' War. From Bohemia, we are transported to the celebrated Hot Springs of Arkansas, treated in a paper profusely illustrated, and as useful to those specially interested in this American Baden as it is picturesque and entertaining to general readers. From Arkansas we are carried to the Valley of the Wye, on the Welsh Border, and the magnificent ruins of Chepstow and Raglan castles, and of Tintern Abbey, are laid before us in excellent engravings. Thence we are brought home again to Life on Broadway, treated in Mr. Rideing's happiest vein, and illustrated by our best artists. Sappho is a charming novelette of tragic interest from the pen of Mrs. C. V. Hamilton, with three remarkably effective illustrations by Abbey. This is followed by a tragedy of a more familiar kind in the brief but touching sketch of Mike, also finely illustrated. J. T. Trowbridge contributes Old Man Gram, another of his Ballads of To-Day, with three capital illustrations by Reinhart, and there are also poems by C. P. Cranch, Ellis Gray, Edgar Fawcett, and S. S. Conant. J. W. DeForest, in a brilliant paper, shows how the Turks fought against the Russians just fifty years ago. Charlotte Adams contributes a brief sketch, entitled Christmas in Venice, full of pictures that are almost poems. This number contains several excellent short stories. Miss Thackeray concludes her beautiful Alpine story, Da Capo. The next number of Harper is to have the commencement of two new serial novels—one by William Black entitled Macleod of Dare, illustrated by Pettie, Millais, and other distinguished English artists; the other by Thomas Hardy, entitled The Return of the Native, also effectively illustrated. Mrs. Fremont concludes the interesting story of her Life in California—a generation ago. The editorial Departments—always among the most interesting portions of Harper—are full of novel and timely matter.

Lippincott's Magazine, for January begins its twenty-first volume. During the ten years of its existence it has won a high place in periodical literature, and its conductors will spare no efforts to maintain its reputation. Of the articles in the January number, those that seem to merit most attention are Edward King's Odd Corners in Austria, giving picturesque descriptions, well illustrated, of Trieste, Pola, and other places in Southern Austria, seldom visited by the mere tourist; an account of The Late Judge Nicholas of Kentucky, interesting both for its political and its personal details, by Paul R. Shipman; and General Brisbin's narrative of A Journey through the Wind River Country. Alfred T. Bacon has a second illustrated paper on Sicily, Mrs. Hooper describes the Mont-de-Piété, the great pawnbroking establishment in Paris, and the Gossip contains, among other matters, some anecdotes of President Lincoln.

For Percival, the new illustrated serial, continues bright and attractive. Other stories in this number are Voiceless, by Robert A. McLeod, Uncle Pompey's Christmas, by Jennie Woodville, and the opening chapters of Jack and Mrs. Brown, by the author of Blindpits. The poetry is by Celia Thaxter, Emma Lazarus, and Edgar Fawcett, and the reviews are unusually numerous, comprising notices of all the chief holiday publications. It is a strong number. Among the attractions for the new year, the publishers announce two Serial Novels, embracing For Percival, a charming story of English life, handsomely illustrated, and A New American Story, by Ellen W. Olney, the talented author of Love in Idleness, also, a series of Illustrated Articles, embracing several on Southeastern Europe (including Bulgaria and Roumania), by Edward King, Descriptions of Old English Towns, Descriptions of Parts of Sweden, by Professor James A. Harrison, Sketches of Life in Norway, by Olive Logan; Palm Lakes, by Robert A. McLeod, etc.

The Atlantic for January opens with an article by the South Carolinian whose papers on the political, social, and moral condition of that State have attracted such wide attention during the past year. The present article is a consideration of The Result in South Carolina of the president's policy, which the writer endeavors to state in the same clear and impartial manner which has marked his previous writings. In the fourth and concluding chapter of his Rambling Notes on Bermuda, Mark Twain combines information and entertainment in a way that strongly recalls his Innocents Abroad. An Episode in the Life of an Artist, by William F. Apthorp, is a description of the Fantastic Symphony of Hector Berlioz, and of the circumstances which led to its composition. Under the title of The Gentle Fire-Eater, Clarence Gordon gives a clever character-sketch of a type which flourished at the South before the war. Charles Dudley Warner commences a series of sketches, to be entitled The Adirondacks Verified. Mr. Bishop's romance, Detmold, sustains its interest, and leaves its hero in a very unhappy situation. Edward H. Knight's ninth article on Crude and Curious Inventions treats of Cotton, Silk, and Spinning, with illustrations of the Japanese methods. Henry James, Jr., gives a charming account of A Little Tour in France, which he made during the pleasant October days, to Rheims, Laon, Coucy, and Soissons. A new feature in this number is the first of a series of Open Letters from New York, by Raymond Westbrook, which will treat of artistic, social, and literary matters at the metropolis. As usual, the January number of the Atlantic is strong in poetry, and presents a new poem of two pages, The Leap of Roushan Beg, by Henry W. Longfellow; one of three pages, The Seeking of the Waterfall, by John Greenleaf Whittier; and a third, of over two pages, entitled My Aviary, by Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes. These are the only poems in the number, the editor justly considering that such a galaxy of poets was sufficient for one month. Mr. Howells contributes a very interesting biographical sketch of Edward Gibbon, the historian, and Prof. Arthur Searle writes a timely and instructive paper on Mars as a Neighbor. The Contributors' Club contains some bright dialogue on Culture versus Cakes and Ale, and the number closes with careful reviews of the latest holiday and juvenile books.

THE LARGEST OF LAND ANIMALS.—At the session of the National Academy of Science, held in New York last week, Prof. O. C. Marsh described the remains of a gigantic dinosaurian animal which were found in the Rocky Mountains last spring. This reptile was by far the largest land animal ever found in any part of the world. There was a well-established principle in mechanics which limits the size, with ordinary construction, of land or water animals, and hitherto it has been claimed that the elephant and the whale of the present day had reached that limit, being supposed to be respectively the largest of land and water animals which have ever existed. The discovery of the Titanosaurus, a land animal of more than double the size of the elephant, is therefore a surprise. The question is, how could such an animal sustain the enormous weight that must rest upon its limbs? Would not its weight have prevented it from moving? Consider its size; it was fifty or sixty feet long, and when erect, thirty or forty feet high. Now comes the curious answer to this question. The bones of this animal were hollow, its vertebrae was constructed like those of birds, having cavities into which air was admitted. Thus light weight was attained, with great strength of structure. Now, where are the remains, and where is Barnum?

VILLAGE SOCIETY IN WINTER.

First. As to sewing-clubs: the work should be carefully restricted to such embroidery, etc., as cannot be done by women who earn their living by their needle. The justice of this ought to be at once apparent, but it is, as a rule, overlooked. We have known the plain sewing taken from the seamstresses of a village, and given to church clubs, for a winter, the consequence of which was, hungry women asking parish help, and a stained-glass window back of the pulpit.

Secondly. In reading-clubs, let the time for each reader be limited by inflexible rule. If this is not done, there will be found in every such club, at least one dogmatic, selfish reader who will force his author and his voice upon the club, until in disgust and weariness the members fall off and the experiment fails.

Thirdly. If we may trench upon a most delicate topic, we would suggest that in merely social combinations for the purpose of music, dancing or conversation, the old caste lines of the town be disregarded. There is no despotism more narrow, and new ideas would generally revivify it. Outside of the so-called "good society" of such a place which has been formed in for two or three generations, is frequently found the larger proportion of intelligence, culture, and breadth of thought.

Fourthly. The great want experienced by cultured men and women in a small town is of books, periodicals, &c., which, individually, they are not able to buy. There are very few circulating libraries in America in towns of a population less than ten thousand. This want can be obviated in a measure by a friendly combination between certain families or individuals, in which each contributes a given number of books to a common stock, these books are loaned to the members in turn.

A more formal and much better way is the formation of a book club, such as were common in England before the establishment of Mudie, in which each member pays at the beginning a certain sum, with which as many books are purchased as there are members, each one choosing a book, these pass in regular rotation from hand to hand, remaining a fortnight with each reader, twenty books may thus be read for the cost of one. When the books have passed around the circle, they are sold to members for the benefit of the club. Fines for detention and damage of books also keep up the funds. No officer is required in this association but the treasurer. Another advantage in the plan is that books can be bought by the quantity at lower rates than singly. The same rule applies to subscriptions for magazines, newspapers, &c.—Scribner.

The newest industrial feature in the world is the introduction by Kansas land owners of the contract system in raising wheat. Large tracts of prairie are broken, seeded, and harrowed by the poorer emigrants for the older settlers, at a fixed price per acre. The plan permits the cultivation of large areas by capitalists at a small expenditure, while it brings ready money to the doors of those arrivals who require employment for themselves and teams while cultivating their own homesteads.

Professor Gunning has been lecturing in the West on the glacial epoch. He says that he confidently expects the glaciers will be at work again in New England, but that, after 250,000 years of possession by the ice, she will come out again as good as new.

VERY SILLY SPITE.

We copy the following editorial remarks from the New York Freeman's Journal as a fair sample of the silly and discreditable exhibitions of spite ... several newspapers ... any respectable journal ought to be ashamed [illegible]

The Boston Journal which is favorable ... recording the records of Union triumphs ... deprecated all revival of memories of ... of the rebellion on the ground that an oblivion is demanded in the interest of harmony takes occasion in connection with the report of the reconciliation of Senators Blaine and Conkling to dig up and parade in its columns the acrimonious passages in debate twelve years ago which caused the estrangement. Noble-spirited paper the Journal! So anxious for the harmony and welfare of the Republican party, you know!

It is the N Y Evening Post which copies in its leading editorial column the following exemplification of disinterested, impersonal non-trading civil service reform

The appointment of Mr Hilliard as Minister to Brazil, says the Atlanta (Ga) Constitution, was asked by Secretary Thompson of Mr Evarts, who recommended him to the President in return for the appointment of one of the Secretary of State's friends to a post in the Navy Department.

A DECEMBER VIEW OF THE ADMINISTRATION

[From the New York Herald, Dec 6]

Every Chief Magistrate is judged by posterity and by history with reference to his administration as a whole. It is always supposable during the progress of an administration that it may mend before it reaches its close and hence there is always some danger that injustice may be done to a President during his first or second year by contemporary critics. But they can judge only by what is offered to their observation, and if a President makes a feeble beginning the best service they can render him is to point out his shortcomings with the frankness of true friendship and thereby aid him in retrieving his reputation and securing from his countrymen the final verdict that "all's well that ends well." Mr Hayes has had a trial of nine months and the transmission to Congress of his first annual Message affords a fit occasion for considering what he has thus far done in the light of his own explanation. The press of the country has been hopeful ... [illegible]

... [illegible]

... the silver question ... portion of the Message ... Secretary Sherman ... [illegible]

... [illegible] Custom House ... body believes that his motive was to humiliate Mr Conkling. The Administration does not hesitate to interfere with local politics, and it has thus tainted what promised to be a decided move toward civil service reform. The President has no right to regard all the citizens of New York as simpletons; but a man must be very much a fool indeed not to perceive that Mr Hayes New York Custom House appointments are dictated by pure hostility to Senator Conkling. It is one of the most flagrant instances in our political history of an attempted use of patronage to humiliate a political opponent. A precious commentary on the lofty profession of the President that the patronage of the government is to be used only for the promotion of broad public interests!

It is charitable to assume that the President could not have made such mistakes unless he had been badly advised. Elected as a Republican, and having no claim to public consideration except as a member of that party, what title has he to pursue a course directly contrary to that which Mr. Blaine or Mr. Morton or Mr. Conkling ... would have adopted had either of them been nominated and elected in his place? Even Vice President Wheeler, who was elected on the same ticket with him, repudiates his policy. How are we to account for the fact that a President elected by the Republicans ... his first year ... Is Mr Hayes so much superior to all the other Republican statesmen that the party would have chosen him had it known that he would set himself in opposition to all the members of both Houses of Congress who enjoy its confidence? The idea is absurd.

Considering the mediocrity of Mr Hayes talents and his limited experience in public life as compared with the foremost Republican leaders it is impossible to suppose that he would have set their judgment at defiance if his own modesty and his own sense of his abilities had controlled his action. He is doubtless the victim of bad advisers. Who these bad advisers are we will not undertake to determine ... but whoever they may be they have put him in a position which will make ... THE BANGOR WHIG ... a Senator in a legislature ... Democracy ... unanimous in the Hamptonites ... this entirely unimportant election to be carried by about 1,500 majority in a county that gave 5,330 Republican majority ... in spite of all the terrorism of that campaign, and where the population consisted at the time of the last census of 29,050 colored and only 5,309 whites. But the Republican would not have been allowed to carry this trebly ... if the Democrats had felt the need of building another Senator ... the Legislature.

Several Washington dispatches state that Senator Blaine and Senator Conkling ... Executive session of the Senate Saturday and that when the doors were opened they were ... together ... for the first time in twelve years.

The San Elizario Fight

[illegible] Antonio despatch states that the [illegible] great numbers, from both [illegible] began war on the Ameri[illegible] San Elizario near El Paso, the [illegible] troops under Sergeant Ellis [illegible] whipped out Ellis and [illegible] being killed. The Mexicans [illegible] about six hundred strong [illegible] resistance. Later despatches in[illegible] at San Elizario was demol[illegible] Mexican military officer who took [illegible] of the mob upon pretense that [illegible] returned to the place. It is [illegible] at Howard and the Rangers are [illegible] and can only be starved [illegible] and hold the fort till [illegible] from New Mexico arrive. It is [illegible] believed the attack was wan[illegible] provoked and suggested by a [illegible] upon Howard and in [illegible] the recent action of the Washing[illegible] Government countermanding the or[illegible] to cross the Rio Grande in pursuit of [illegible] just at a time when the whole Mex[illegible] [illegible] They think [illegible] alone inspired [illegible]

The beginning of the Trouble

[illegible] despatch dated El Paso gives the fol[illegible] as the beginning of the trouble — [illegible] who killed Cardes left here on [illegible] with the intention of serving [illegible] upon parties taking salt from the [illegible] lakes. Arriving at San Elizario he [illegible] protection of the Texas Rangers. [illegible] was [illegible] by a mob of [illegible] from both sides of the river. Capt. Blair's [illegible] troop were refused en[illegible] to the town and Howard and the [illegible] were corralled. No communica[illegible] allowed with them. Occasionally [illegible] were fired between the mob and the [illegible] on the street and on Friday there [illegible] all day.

A special from McCarrett, Texas, says [illegible] stage north was jumped by [illegible] robbers and the passengers all [illegible] Lieutenant just from West [illegible] assigned to the Tenth Infantry shot [illegible] and other valuables. He states [illegible] the drop on one of the rob[illegible] by the advice of a passenger re[illegible] from shooting as the robbers would [illegible] The robbers asked for the [illegible] whom they were seeking. [illegible] of men that fighting at San Eli[illegible] signal for a general guerrilla [illegible] The Mexicans have threatened an [illegible] and if they have commenced it [illegible] hard fighting and a heavy [illegible] in men and money to drive them back.

The Mob at Elezaro said to Consist of Texans

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. Official information [illegible] at the Military headquarters this [illegible] shows that the mob at San Ele[illegible] consists of about 400 citizens of El Paso county, Texas, that no Mexicans [illegible] crossed the river to take part in the [illegible] and that the Mexican authorities [illegible] given positive orders that none of their citizens should cross. About 300 troops have been ordered from posts in New Mexico to the source of trouble in El Paso county. The withdrawal of troops [illegible] the Indian frontier exposed.

The statement published here this fore[illegible] that an unusual quantity of supplies [illegible] being sent to Texas from St. Louis, is [illegible] correct, only ordinary supplies are be[illegible] sent and for no greater number of men [illegible] are now serving in that department [illegible] assigned to it. All the officers of the [illegible] in a position to know anything about [illegible] existing troubles in Texas are satisfied [illegible] there is no possible ground for war [illegible] preparations.

Troops Bound for El Paso

WASHINGTON, Dec 17. General Sheri[illegible] has ordered troops as follows to El Paso county. From Fort Bayard, New Mexico, 50 miles from El Paso, four com[illegible] of cavalry, 125 men, one company [illegible] infantry 28 men. From Fort Stanton, New Mexico, 15 miles three companies of [illegible] 107 men, one company of infan[illegible] men. From Santa Fe, New Mexi[illegible] [illegible] one company of infantry, 28 [illegible] All of the above are from General Pope's command and he has no others [illegible] 500 miles.

The Force Deemed Sufficient to Preserve the Peace.

It is thought the troops from Fort Stan[illegible] have already reached El Paso and will probably be able to relieve the troops now surrounded by the mob. Five hundred and six troops are also ordered from Fort Davis Texas, 250 miles off. The troops from Fort Bayard will no doubt reach San Elizario to-morrow, and with those from Fort Stanton will be sufficient to keep the peace. The affair is purely local, and no serious complications are anticipated. The Mexicans who have joined the mob from across the Rio Grande are thought to be relatives of Mexicans living in Texas, who for years have been gathering salt from the lakes in El Paso County.

The Committee on Mexican Affairs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. The special Senate Committee of which Senator Conkling is chairman, and which was appointed for the purpose of inquiring into and reporting whether any measures can be devised to promote commercial intercourse with Mexico, and to establish a peaceful condition of affairs on the border, between th[illegible] country and Mexico were in session to-day several hours. The entire time was devoted to hearing Gen. Sherman's statement which was substantially the same as made before the House committee, bearing upon the same subject.

NEW YORK, Dec 17. The sub-commit[illegible] of the House Military Committee to investigate the Mexican border troubles, met this morning and instructed the chairman to address a request to the Secretary of War to have summoned before the Committee Col. Shafter, Lieut. Bullis and Lieut Turner, who recently pursued Mexican raiders into Mexican Territory. Until the arrival of those officers the sub-committee will transact no business unless some extraordinary emergency should arise when they will assemble at the call of the chairman.

THE INDIANS

Sitting Bull and his Tribe in an Uncomfortable Place

NEW YORK, Dec 17. A Fort Walsh letter [illegible] the antagonism and threats of the Blackfeet Indians have made living in Canada uncomfortable for Sitting Bull and his tribe and at a council held on the 28th [illegible] Sitting Bull, Little Knife, Spotted Eagle, Bear Cap, Iron Dog and Standing B[illegible] to favor returning forthwith to the Missouri country and yielding to the American authorities while The Marmot, Big Snake and Pretty Boy, called Sitting Bull's brother because well beloved by him, were opposed to going south before next fall. The Marmot is willing to yield provided the American authorities often the [illegible] guarantees tendered by the Commission in October.

The story that prior to Ryan of the 7th cavalry had been captured and compelled to marry Spotted Eagle's daughter and is now one of Sitting Bull's tribe is entirely groundless.

FOREIGN NEWS.

THE EASTERN WAR.

The Rumors of Osman Pasha's Death

LONDON, Dec 16. A special despatch from Constantinople and Vienna announces reports current of the sudden death of Osman Pasha. It is stated from Vienna that he died while proceeding toward Bucharest. It must be remembered that there is very little probability of a despatch reaching Constantinople from Bucharest so that Osman's intention to take his own life must have been communicated to his friends in some private correspondence.

Osman's Death Announced at Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec 16. The death of Osman Pasha while enroute to Bucharest is announced here to-day.

Various Reports

LONDON, Dec 17. A despatch from Bucharest Sunday evening makes no mention of the death of Osman Pasha.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec 17. Mahmoud Damad has gone to inspect the fortifications of the Balkans. A Russian force appeared at Tashesen between Kamarli and Sofia but was driven back. It is snowing heavily in the Balkans. It is feared the passes will be rendered impassable.

LEFROUM, Dec 17. Two Russian divisions are moving to cut the Turkish communication with Trebezond and attack Erzeroum from the North.

Arrival of the Czar at Bucharest

A Bucharest despatch of 1.40 P. M., announces the arrival of the Czar, but says nothing about Osman Pasha's death.

No Mediation

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec 17. It is generally believed the Porte's appeal for mediation of the Powers will have no result.—Mr Layard, British Ambassador, has informed the Turkish government that England will continue to observe neutrality.

Osman Pasha's Force

LONDON, Dec 17. A Bucharest despatch says that Col. Wellesley, British Military Attache, says Osman Pasha had less than 30,000 men at Plevna and in his sortie lost 6 000 in killed alone. The wounded must have been 6,000 more.

The Russian Advance from Elena

BOGOT, Dec. 17. The Russians after occupying Elena pushed forward their troops to Bebnova yesterday.

Rumored death of Osman False.

LONDON, Dec. 17. Reuter's Bucharest despatch says the report of the suicide of Osman Pasha is false and that there is no foundation for the rumor of his death from any cause.

ITALY.

The Pope's Health.

ROME, Dec 17.—An appeal to the court has sentenced the publisher of Osservatore Romano (daily organ of the Vatican and clerical party) to six months imprisonment for libelling ministers of the Italian free church. The Pope continues to improve. Some of the Cardinals desire to remove the conclave to Trent.

The Resignation of the Ministry.

In the Italian Parliament Saturday the vote was on the question of Ministers violating the freedom and secrecy of telegrams, but this was a mere pretext for discovering the general discontent touching various political and financial questions. The vote stood 184 for and 162 against the Ministers, which deducting ten absentees and votes of the Ministers and Secretaries, left a majority of five. The Ministers afterwards were actually defeated on the question of electoral reform, whereupon they resigned. M. Depretis will endeavor to reorganize the Ministry by bringing in the leaders of the dissatisfied sections.

A Great Change

PARIS, Dec 17. A great change in the personnel of the departmental administration is expected. Over forty prefects have already resigned.

MEXICO

Reported Filibustering Expedition.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17th. A Tucson Arizona despatch says Hermosillo papers received to-day say General Hueronto, former Governor of Sonora, is reported in Mexico with 2000 American filibusters stationed near the Sonora line preparing for an invasion. Pasquardno, Mexican man of war, has arrived at Guayama to look into matters, and several thousand troops are concentrated near Mazatlan. Indians killed [illegible] driver from New Mexico in San Simosin valley and troops are in pursuit.

SUDDEN DEATH. Yesterday morning at about [illegible] o'clock Mr. Emery B. Folsom, who resides about one mile from the Brewer bridge, arose and built the fires, and shortly after he told his wife that he did not feel very well and that she had better give him a little brandy. He then threw himself down into a chair and died in a very few moments. He has been troubled with heart disease for some time. He was sixty-two years old.

THE HANDEL rehearsal was well attended last evening and a profitable session was held. During the social hour the following attractive programme was presented and the different parts were very finely rendered. Piano solo, Miss Drew; Song, "If I was a Knight of the Olden Time," Mr. Patten; Song, "Nothing," Mr. Lawrence; Song, "The Diver," Mr. Burnabee; Song, "Old Oaken Bucket," Penobscot Quartette. In response to an encore Mr. Patten sung "Whose that knocking at the garden gate."

OLDTOWN. Yesterday morning Mr. [illegible] Mrs. Fred Hunt and Mr. Miller of Oldtown were suddenly taken ill and as they continued to grow worse a physician was called in. After he had examined their symptoms he decided that they all had taken poison, but was unable at the time to determine what kind it was, but thinks it must have been arsenic. Both ladies are very sick and suffer a great deal, but the gentleman seems to be easier. They live in a double house and it is a mystery to all the citizens how they should all be taken at the same time. We understand that some other members of the family were slightly ill.

MAN MISSING. Our correspondent at [illegible] writes: Last Wednesday [illegible] Page, a young man from Brownville who has been at work in the woods near the [illegible] Works, left the camp to spend the following day (Thursday) at home. Their [illegible] nothing from him until the following Sunday, when they learned that he had not been home. Search being made, he was traced from the camp to the bank of Pleasant River, where the trail was lost and it is supposed that he must have been drowned. Some seventy men and boys from Brownville were hunting all day Sunday in and about the river but their search has been unsuccessful.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CHILDREN'S HOME. There will be a Christmas tree at the Children's Home on Christmas day. The inmates of the home—eleven boys and thirty-three girls—are all anxiously looking forward to this great event, and it is to be hoped that our citizens will contribute largely to their happiness by sending in a large number of presents. Any second hand sled, clothing, toys or shoes will be very gratefully received, and those who have an abundance of vegetables or poultry have it in their power to make a very acceptable present. For the accommodation of those who are willing to give, packages may be left with Mrs. J. Marcel, High street, Mr. G. W. Merrill's, [illegible] French street, or at his store on Main street. The tree will be lighted at half past 1 o'clock Christmas afternoon.

THE WAKEFIELD FUND. In our paragraph yesterday concerning the liberal gift to the City by Hon. A. G. Wakefield we used the general term [illegible] [illegible] in mentioning the object to which the income of the fund is to be applied at the expiration of the life interest. The specific application of this relief is to be for the benefit of needy widows over thirty years of age, no widow to receive over fifty dollars and no single woman over thirty dollars in one year. The distribution of this assistance is intrusted to the Mayor and Aldermen and no distinction is to be made on account of race, color or religion. The wise disposition of such a fund may be made to accomplish much good and Mr. Wakefield's benevolence is likely to be remembered with gratitude in the future by many recipients of needed aid.

TRAIN OF CARS THROWN FROM THE TRACK. Yesterday afternoon as the Bucksport train was about half way between Brewer village and Brewer a cow ran down from a field and got on to the track. The engineer saw her and whistled "on brakes" but it being down grade the engine struck her and passed over her safely, but four cars loaded with grain left the rails. At the time the conductor was collecting tickets and on hearing the whistle he went out and took hold of the brake, and when the train stopped he did not think that any of the cars had left the rails as there was no shock felt in the passenger cars. The passengers got on the engine and came to this city, and in a short time Supt. Cram with a crew of men started for the wreck. The cars were placed on the rails in a very short time and the men returned to the city. With the exception of a few bolts and bars the train was uninjured and the rails were not thrown out of place, but the cow will never get before another train of cars.

A GENTLE HINT. In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill and perhaps death by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial 10c; regular size 75. d&weow m

TRUE ECONOMY is not in buying the low priced articles. The best is cheapest. So with the fine cultivated and plant[illegible] grown spices imported by Messrs. Pinckney, Jackson & Co., of London and New York. I have just received a shipment of these goods and would specially invite the attention of all consumers to them. These spices are not only absolutely pure, but are without a doubt the finest ever imported into this country. I confidently recommend them as being really of unusual merit.

CHAS. DWINEL, nov28 eod No. 3 Kenduskeag Bridge.

THE AMOUNT OF TESTIMONY in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup as a cure for Consumption far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine. See Dr. Schenck's Almanac, which can be had of any Druggist free of charge, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability who have been restored to health after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show, but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. These additional remedies are Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. By the timely use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr. Schenck certifies that most any case of Consumption may be cured. Every [illegible] makes your cure more difficult and [illegible] Schenck's Mandrake Pills are an agreeable and safe [illegible] Consumption caused by biliousness and [illegible] tonic. There is no better remedy for disordered stomach and all the evils resulting therefrom. Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. Schenck's Medicines are for sale by all Druggists. 1m del

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and each winter [illegible] has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with others was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was not troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell, which were wholly gone, are now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD,
Short-Hand Writer.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived here to-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried Nasal Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them [illegible] the benefit the remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 18, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

DISBURSED IN 1876.

To Policy Holders,	$6,018,758.86

This Company is purely mutual, not having a dollar of stock. Its policyholders are the only members of the Corporation. It is therefore in effect, a simple partnership of persons for insuring each other's lives. There being no stock, there can be no sale of the Company from one set of owners and managers to another, but its affairs remain perpetually in the entire control of the members themselves, to elect a board of twelve directors each year. This board meets weekly, and directly supervises all the business of the Company.

The Company issues whole life policies with either annual premiums for life, which it prefers and recommends, or with a limited number of premiums, 10 will also issue long term endowments. Experience has shown that these are the most advantageous forms of policies both to the individual and to the Company. We shall, therefore, restrict ourselves to them.

The surplus earned in any year is returned to the following year, only by reduction of premium, thus limiting the payments to the actual current cost of the insurance.

In thirty years, this association of men, united in interests and purposes, as a single feature in its history, has paid to the representatives of seven thousand five hundred and sixty members who have died, the vast sum of twenty-five millions one hundred and twenty-nine thousand five hundred and thirty six dollars—$25,129,536.00—as follows:

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8 to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

☞ The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $31.80 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

FIRST CLASS.

All Letters must be Prepaid.—Letters for the Mails in the United States, three cents the half ounce or single rate. City letters, two cents half ounce or single rate.

SECOND CLASS.

Newspapers.

All regular newspapers must be prepaid at the office of publication, at the rate of two cents per pound for each issue on weekly papers or those published oftener than once a week, less frequently than once a week, three cents. The same law applies to dealers.

County papers free, except to letter carrier offices, the papers coming to this office, if published in County, are subject to postage. Daily papers published in County, if delivered by carrier, one cent each, to be prepaid by stamps.

Postage to Canada.—Same as in the States on letters and papers, prepayment compulsory, merchandise limited to 8 oz., postage 12 cents.

THIRD CLASS.

TRANSIENT PRINTED MATTER AND BOOKS AND MERCHANDISE.

One Cent for Two Ounces.

Almanacs, books (printed), calendars, catalogues, corrected proofs, hand bills, magazines, maps—lithographed or engraved—music, printed sheets, newspapers, occasional publications, pamphlets, posters, proof sheets, prospectuses.

One cent for each ounce.

Blank books, blank cards, book manuscripts, card boards and other flexible materials, chromo lithographs, circulars, engravings, envelopes, flexible patterns, letter envelopes, letter paper, lithographs, merchandise, models, ornamental paper, postal cards when sent in bulk and not addressed, photographic views, photographic paper, printed blanks, printed cards, sample cards, samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions, stereoscopic views.

All packages of matter of third class must be so wrapped or enveloped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily and thoroughly examined by postmasters without destroying the wrappers.

The sender of a package of third class matter may write his or her name on the wrapper with the word "From," but nothing more, without subjecting the whole to letter postage.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

All letters remaining in the office are advertised on Monday of each week. If not claimed in one month thereafter, they are then forwarded to the Dead Letter office.

MONEY ORDERS.

Especial attention is called to the Money Order system, as a safe and cheap method of transmitting small sums through the mails. Orders are issued in sums of not more than fifty dollars. Larger amounts can be transmitted to the same person, at the same time, by additional orders.

RATES

On orders not exceeding $15,	10 cents
" over $15 and not exceeding $30,	15 cents
" over $30 and not exceeding $40,	20 cents
" over $40 and not exceeding $50,	25 cents.

Money Orders can also be obtained on England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Switzerland and Germany.

Never put Money in a Letter—Always Procure a Money Order.

If money is to be remitted, a Postal Money Order should be obtained. If upon points where there is no Money Order Office, then the letter should be Registered. Money should never be enclosed in an ordinary letter.

Office Hours—From 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.

All valuable letters should be Registered, unless a Money Order is obtained. Under the present system of Registration, letters are transmitted with perfect safety.

Letters may be Registered by paying postage in full, and a Registration fee in stamps, for—

United States, 10 cents.

Great Britain and Ireland, and all Countries having a postal treaty with the United States, 10 cents.

VEGETINE

Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.

VEGETINE

Is not a vile, nauseous compound which simply purges the bowels, but a safe, pleasant remedy, which is sure to purify the blood, and thereby restore the health.

VEGETINE

Is now prescribed, in cases of Scrofula and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE

Does not deceive invalids into false hopes by purging and creating a fictitious appetite, but assists nature in clearing and purifying the whole system, leading the patient gradually to perfect health.

VEGETINE

Was looked upon as an experiment for some time by some of our best physicians, but those most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

VEGETINE,

Instead of being a puffed up medicine, has worked its way up to its present astonishing success by actual merit in curing all diseases of the blood, of whatever nature.

VEGETINE,

Says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE

Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. Vegetine was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article, and, after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours, U. L. PETTENGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettengill & Co.,
No. 10 State St., Boston.

I HAVE FOUND

THE RIGHT MEDICINE.

BOSTON, Mass.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I commenced taking the Vegetine, and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man, and my skin is smooth, and entirely free from pimples and eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of Vegetine. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the Vegetine's wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely.
